Nevada the Latest Public Notice Trouble Spot

Legislation that would authorize radio and television station websites to publish public notices in Nevada has become a serious threat to newspapers in the state, according to the Nevada Press Association (NPA). Senate Bill 218 would establish broadcaster websites as an alternative to newspapers for all legislatively mandated notices in the state, including foreclosure notices and other private-party public declarations.

A hearing on the bill was held last week. NPA Executive Director Barry Smith and Nevada Legal News Publisher Scott Sibley testified in opposition to the bill. Smith reminded the committee newspapers in the state already post notices on their own websites at no additional cost to the print version, and all of the notices are aggregated on a statewide site operated by NPA. "The broadcasters association may tell you (SB 218) offers a choice," said Smith, "but the choice is available only to the government: to choose whether to put a notice in print and online, or whether to put it online only. That takes away the choice for residents and citizens of how they want to read their notices."

MINUTES OF THE PNRC BOARD MEETING
MARRIOTT COOL SPRINGS, FRANKLIN, TENN.
SEPTEMBER 23, 2016

The Boards of Directors of the Public Notice Resource Center and American Court and Commercial Newspapers held a joint meeting on Friday, September 23, 2016, at the Marriott Cool Springs in Franklin, Tenn.

Attending the meeting were PNRC board members Brad Thompson, Detroit Legal News Publishing; Bill Rector, Daily Record, Inc.; Scott Sibley, Nevada Daily Legal News; Hal Cohen, ALM Media; Vahn Babigian, Metropolitan News-Enterprise; Eric Barnes, Daily News Publishing Co.; and Wayne Curtis, ALM Media. ACCN members Ginger Lamb, Chicago Law Bulletin and Jeff Schrag, Daily Events; PNRC contributor Layne Bruce, Mississippi Press Association; and PNRC co-director Richard Karpel also attended. Board member Matt Walsh, Business Observer, participated in the meeting via teleconference. Board members Greg Morris, Court & Commercial Record, and Robert M. Williams, Jr., Blackshear (Ga.) Times, were unable to attend the meeting.

ACCN President Barnes and PNRC President Thompson called the joint meeting to order at 8:45 a.m.

The boards discussed the PNRC Best Practices Conference held the previous day in conjunction with the National Newspaper Association convention. There was general agreement that it was an excellent conference, but that the program could be more appropriately delivered in two hours. The Board also agreed that PNRC should continue to pursue opportunities to present public notice programming in conjunction with other newspaper organizations, including webinars and stand-alone presentations.

Karpel said that Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and Inland Press Association were interested in hosting the next Best Practices Conference at their joint annual convention in September 2017 at the Broadmoor in Colorado Springs. The Board authorized him to pursue the opportunity and to establish a "speaker's bureau" to promote other programming opportunities.

The meeting broke at 9:30 for a presentation on trends in foreclosure by Austin Kilgore, editor in chief of National Mortgage News.

Following the presentation, the joint meeting adjourned and the PNRC board meeting convened at 10:45.

Scott Sibley moved to approve the minutes of the April 2016 PNRC board meeting. Vahn Babigian seconded. The motion was approved unanimously.

Karpel presented the financials, including both the final income statement and balance sheet for the fiscal year that ended June 30, 2016, and his projection for the fiscal year ending in 2017. After some discussion regarding issues relating to the timing of payments, the Board authorized Karpel to change the organization's accounting method in the next fiscal year from cash to accrual. Sibley moved to approve the FY 16 financials as presented. Bill Rector seconded. The motion was approved unanimously.

Karpel described a proposed bylaws amendment included in the board book that would serve as a technical correction to resolve inconsistencies relating to the number of board members and the length of their terms. Rector moved to approve the amendment. Sibley seconded. The motion was approved unanimously.

Thompson discussed conversations he had prior to the meeting regarding positions on the Board of Directors. He said that Mike Kramer of Law Bulletin Publishing Co. resigned from the board due to his inability to devote the time and attention it required. Kramer recommended Ginger Lamb as a replacement. Thompson also said that Robert Williams, Jr. was stepping down, and that Liz Parker, New Jersey Hills Media Group, had agreed to replace him as the National Newspaper Association (NNA) member on the board. Finally, he said that he wanted to appoint Layne Bruce, executive director of the Mississippi Press Association and 2016-17 President of the Newspaper Association Managers (NAM), to one of the appointed seats.

Following discussion, Rector moved to approve a slate of candidates that included himself for Vice President, Ginger Lamb for Secretary, and Hal Cohen and Vahn Babigian for two at-large seats; and to confirm Thompson's appointments of Liz Parker and Layne Bruce to the Board. Sibley seconded. The motion was approved unanimously.

The PNRC board meeting was adjourned at 11:05 a.m.

MINUTES OF THE ACCN ANNUAL MEETING
MARRIOTT COOL SPRINGS, FRANKLIN, TENN.
SEPTEMBER 23, 2016

The annual meeting of American Court and Commercial Newspapers was held on Friday, September 23, 2016, at the Marriott Cool Springs in Franklin, Tenn.

Attending the meeting were ACCN members Eric Barnes, Daily News Publishing Co.; Wayne Curtis, ALM Media; Jeff Schrag, Daily Events; Brad Thompson, Detroit Legal News Publishing; Bill Rector, Daily Record, Inc.; Scott Sibley, Nevada Daily Legal News; Hal Cohen, Bridgetower Media; Vahn Babigian, Metropolitan News-Enterprise; and Ginger Lamb, Chicago Law Bulletin. ACCN Executive Director Richard Karpel also attended the meeting. Matt Walsh, Business Observer, participated in the meeting via teleconference.

ACCN President Eric Barnes called the meeting to order at 11:15 a.m.

Wayne Curtis moved to approve the minutes of the 2015 Annual Meeting held in Denver. Matt Walsh seconded. The motion was approved unanimously.

Karpel presented the financials, including both the final income statement and balance sheet for the fiscal year that ended June 30, 2016, and his projection for the fiscal year ending in 2017. Barnes asked for a statement showing all payments made for management services and transfers to PNRG, since 2014. Karpel agreed to supply those statements following the meeting. Schrag and Cohen noted that dues invoices should be sent prior to the beginning of the fiscal year, to set expectations about when payment was due. Karpel agreed to send invoices for the next fiscal year on June 1, 2017. A lengthy discussion about dues rates followed. At the conclusion of the discussion, Barnes, Thompson, Walsh, Rector and Babigian volunteered to serve on an ad hoc task force to review ACCN's dues structure, and to report back to the ACCN Board of Directors with a recommendation about whether any changes were necessary. Curtis made a motion to accept the financials as presented, and Walsh seconded the motion. The motion was approved unanimously.

Curtis made a motion to approve an amendment to the bylaws adding a clause authorizing the election and establishing the length of the term of the at-large member of the Board of Directors. Walsh seconded. The motion was approved unanimously.

Curtis made a motion to approve the following slate of candidates to the ACCN Board of Directors for one-year terms:

- Eric Barnes, Daily News Publishing Co., President
- Wayne Curtis, ALM Media, VP of Programs
- Greg Morris, Court & Commercial Record, VP-Secretary
- Matt Walsh, The Business Observer, VP-Treasurer
- Jeff Schrag, Daily Events, at-large

Walsh seconded the motion. It was approved unanimously.

The meeting was adjourned at 12:22 p.m.
